

New Jersey Environmental Health Association

Presents

Professional Food Manager Certification Training

A full day of training designed for restaurant owners, managers, chefs, cooks, staff and the Person-In-Charge (PIC) of the food establishment.

Date: Monday, April 12th, 2010

Location: Monmouth County Health Department
3435 Highway 9 Freehold, New Jersey 07728

Time: 8:30 A.M. – 6:30 P.M. LUNCH is Included!

This professional training program will meet the NEW requirements of New Jersey's rules governing sanitation in retail food establishments, entitled, "Chapter 24" N.J.A.C. 8:24-2.1(b). Risk Type III food establishments in New Jersey now require at least one person in charge to be a certified food protection manager. Learn the importance of foodborne disease prevention, and related issues under Chapter 24.

Applicants should complete the application form, attach payment made to "NJEHA" and mail the application and payment to the address below. Registration deadline is 4/5/10. Application forms can also be downloaded from our website www.njeha.org For further information, contact Alice Cadotte at (732)-431-7456.

To schedule a Professional Food Manager Certification Training course in your area, please contact: Paschal Nwako (201) 519-2890, Bob Uhrik 732-329-4000 x7233 or Dwight Gerdes (732) 759-1465. For a complete list of scheduled courses available, visit our Web site at: www.njeha.org

*Course fee: $100. Includes training class, study guide, exam & *certification. Please make check or money order payable to:
New Jersey Environmental Health Association (NJEHA)*

New Jersey Environmental Health Association

Monmouth County Health Department
C/O Alice Cadotte
3435 Highway 9
Freehold, NJ 07728

Phone (732) 431-7456
www.njeha.org